FOREIGN ENGINEERS VISIT ELECTROL
A group of 25 engineering executives from Switzerland and West Germany visited Electrol, Inc., Thursday during a three-week tour of hydraulic plants in this country. The tour of the group, described as experts in the field of hydraulics, is sponsored by the National Fluid Power Association and the West German Oil Hydraulics Association. They left Kingston yesterday afternoon. Victor Fletcher, vice president and secretary of Electrol, said it is the desire of the visiting engineers to expand and develop a solid hydraulic industry in their own countries. They listened to lectures by Electrol executives, later touring the plant which manufactures hydraulic and pneumatic devices for aircraft control, such as landing gear oleo struts, under both commercial and governmental contracts. Alexander R. Torok of Trade and Industry Tours Association, New York City, is in charge of the tour and served as interpreter. Group in the photo above watches thread milling operation. At machine is David Page (in white shirt), vice president (production), and Donald Cullam (right), operator. Roy Wulff, chief of landing gear design, and Joseph Brooks, vice president and treasurer of Electrol, addressed the visiting engineers. (Freeman photo).

Levitt Lays Victory to Bond Plan GOP Presses Own School Financing

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Democrat Arthur Levitt told the Republican-controlled Legislature today his re-election last November as comptroller meant that the voters wanted a state school bond financing authority.

Levitt, the only Democratic survivor in the statewide election, dusted off his three-year-old proposal and challenged the GOP majority leaders to let it go to a floor vote.

Bills to implement the plan, which is intended to help cut school construction costs, are to be introduced by Democratic leaders.

GOP Has Own Plan

The measures were killed in GOP - dominated committees the last two years. They apparently will die there again, since the Republicans are pushing another plan.

Under Levitt's plan, the authority would purchase local school district bonds with money raised by selling its own bonds. Authority bonds would not be obligations of the state.

Asks Public Hearing

"The creation of a state financing authority was a major issue in my campaign," Levitt said in a statement, "and I believe that my re-election indicates that the citizens of the state desire this authority."

More than 5½ million ballots were cast in the election. Levitt won re-election by 14,851 votes. Republican Nelson Rockefeller's margin in the governor race was more than 573,000.

Levitt recommended holding a public hearing on his plan. "Doing so," he said, "would prevent the backroom maneuvering which killed the measures in previous years."

Advance Own Program

Republicans maintained that Levitt's plan would not reduce bond interest rates. They advanced their own program, under which the state's credit would be put behind local school construction bonds.

The proposal, suggested as a constitutional amendment, was approved by the Legislature last year. It was approved again at the 1958 session, but will be placed before the voters next fall.

Castro Warns Against Intervention by U. S.

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro says Cuba's revolutionary regime wants good relations with the United States, but not at the price of halting executions because of American criticism.

Castro warned Thursday against any U.S. intervention to stop executions ordered by military courts for murder and torture during Fulgencio Batista's dictatorship.

Webster captured by troopers, held for slaying wife

DOVER PLAINS, N. Y. (AP) — Stanley Webster, 20, was charged with first-degree murder today in the rifle slaying of his 19-year-old estranged wife.

Webster, who was seized by state police Thursday night after eluding capture for two days, was brought before Justice of the Peace C. Allerton Morey.

Webster was remanded to Dutchess County Jail and held without bail pending grand jury action.

Webster's wife Patricia was slain early Wednesday as she was starting home from a tavern where she worked as a waitress.

The couple apparently had been quarreling. A year ago, Webster had been put under bond of $1,000 not to molest her.

Webster was arrested as he sought to sneak out of his mother's home about three miles from here. State police had kept the mother's house under surveillance. Until he was seized, Webster had eluded scores of law enforcement officers.

Girl, 9, to Represent Youth at History Fete

A nine-year-old pupil in the fourth grade at School No. 6 has been selected to represent the young people of the community at the opening ceremonies of New York State's Year of History next Tuesday, it was announced today.

She is Frances Embree, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Embree Jr., 537 Albany Avenue. Her class under Mrs. Dorothy Palen has been studying local history and members of the class expressed a desire to participate in the ceremonies.

Contact was made with Harry Rigby Jr., of Kingston, a member of the executive committee of the State Commission on Historic Observances, who has taken a leading role in planning the Year of History.

Rigby, in turn, called Dr. Earl Soper, superintendent of the Kingston City School District. At a meeting of elementary school teachers Tuesday Dr. Soper suggested the selection of a child to represent the younger generation at the ceremonies and Frances was designated.

Rigby said today that the little girl would be "one of the top brass guests of honor," would participate in laying the wreath at 11:30 a. m., would then sit with the 15 State Senators at the Senate House as they reenact the organizational session of the State Legislature which was held on Sept. 10, 1777, and would have a seat of honor at the luncheon in the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Rigby said Frances would have (Continued on Page 7, Col. 6)

Group Will Fight State Tax Boost, Shoemaker Warns

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — A statewide taxpayers group contends that Gov. Rockefeller need not increase state income taxes to balance the new state budget.

The Citizens Public Expenditure Survey will fight any attempt to boost the tax, Garth A. Shoemaker, its president, said Thursday.

Rockefeller has said he needed additional revenues to offset a 230-million-dollar gap between income and planned expenditures in the new budget.

Shoemaker said recent statements by the Republican governor indicated the budget would total $1,987,000,000, about 175 million more than the current fiscal year budget.

Legislation to carry out Rockefeller's proposal to increase the state gasoline and diesel-fuel tax was introduced in the Legislature (Continued on Page 7, Col. 7)

Kingston Hospital Sets New Patient Records in 1958

Kingston Hospital in 1958 established new all-time records in total number of patient-days and in number of patients admitted, it was reported today by Robert M. Schnitzer, administrator.

A total of 44,925 patient-days of care was reported by the hospital in 1958, an increase of 11 per cent over the 40,414 patient-days in 1957.

There were 6,508 persons admitted to the hospital during the calendar year just ended, compared to a total of 6,153 admissions in 1957.

Operations performed in Kingston Hospital last year totaled 3,296, compared to 3,251 in 1957. Treatments in the emergency rooms in 1958 totaled 3,418, compared to 2,884 treatments the previous year.

"These figures clearly indicate the increasing demand for hospital services and facilities in our area," Schnitzer said.

These and other statistics will be included in reports to be prepared (Continued on Page 7, Col. 5)

To Draw 150 Jurors Monday

Ashby Perjury Trial Will Start Feb. 3rd

An order of Supreme Court Justice Henry Clay Greenberg was entered this morning directing the acting commissioner of jurors Ward B. Tongue to draw a panel of 150 trial jurors to be in attendance at the Extraordinary Term of that court on Monday, February 3, at 10 o'clock, for the trial of the Edwin W. Ashby perjury indictment.

The panel will be drawn at the court house at 2 p. m. on Monday, January 19.

May Be Difficult

It is the usual custom to draw a panel of not more than 75 jurors for a regular trial term, however due to the publicity which the "kickback" investigation being conducted by Special Prosecutor Bernard Tompkins has received, it is doubtful if even the 150 jurors will be sufficient to obtain a trial panel.

When the special grand jury was being selected to hear the "kickback" charges at the beginning of the probe, a panel of 150 grand jurors was drawn.

Second Charge Felony
The jurors to be drawn Monday for service beginning February 3, are being summoned for trial of the indictment which charges Ashby, former Ulster County Commissioner of Jurors, with perjury. Under the original indictment Ashby is charged with perjury, first degree, but under a superseding indictment he is charged with first degree perjury, a felony, and also a second degree perjury count, a misdemeanor.

A motion to dismiss the first indictment is pending, before Justice Greenberg.

Further appointments to the police department due to retirement of officers and promotion of others are slated to be discussed at a police board meeting Saturday at 10 a. m.

Three vacancies exist due to the recent retirement of Officer Gurnsey Burger Sr., of 126 Franklin Street, who retired last month, and of Detective Clarence W. Brophy of 328 Hurley Avenue, who retired earlier last year, and because of the recent promotion of Detective Frank E. Sammons, 34 Smith Avenue to sergeant, and of Lemuel F. Howard, of 108 Fairmont Avenue from sergeant to lieutenant.

The board's regular January meeting was due to be held Thursday, but Mayor Edwin F. Radel said today it had been postponed because of several other meetings in which members of the police board were active. One of these was the (Continued on Page 7, Col. 5)

Fowler Is Temporary Head of City Advisers

Advisory Group Feels Specialists On School Building Important to Economy

Consolidation machinery, which will generate an enlarged city school district, moved into higher gear Thursday evening when:

- 1) The Board of Education voted to retain a nationally-known architectural firm for school building.
- 2) Co-chairmen were named for the "committee of 50," an advisory body to the enlarged city school district.
- 3) A physical survey of both city and rural school facilities was planned.
- 4) A proposal was made to enroll rural seventh and eighth grade pupils in Kingston schools for the 1959-1960 school year, and
- 5) Co-chairmen of the "committee of 50" were invited to name a sub-committee which would submit a list of prospective candidates for members of the Board of Education to fill two vacancies in May.

President Robert H. Herzog of the Board of Education presided at the meeting of the 50 advisory members, and at a special meeting of the board, immediately following, the architectural firm of Perkins & Will, of White Plains (home offices in Chicago), was retained for school building.

Attorney N. Jansen Fowler, of Kingston, was named temporary chairman of the 25-member city advisory group, and John Vines, co-chairman, representing the 25-member rural group.

The board voted to retain the architectural firm, pending formal signing of a contract, after it had received the tacit approval of the 50-member advisory group.

Herzog explained to the advisory group that the Board of Education was not requesting that body "do the work of the board, or make its decisions," but they were asked to "act as a sounding board and counseling group."

Will Hear Suggestions
Their suggestions on building construction, etc., will be submitted to the board, their points of view analyzed with a hope for "tacit agreement," and possibly many of their opinions "will modify the original thinking of the board" on matters brought before it.

Decision to retain Perkins & Will was made at the board meeting following lengthy discussion among members of the board and the advisory group.

It was felt originally that rural schools would hire an architect of their choice, and planning work for city schools would be "parceled out" among local architects. The board previously had interviewed representatives of three "major architectural firms."

Prime Consideration
There was agreement at last night's advisory board meeting that "the bulk of the taxpayers, time-saving methods, economy and efficiency" were of prime consideration. While there was no vote on retention of a nationally-known architectural firm, it was generally agreed that such an organization would assure all these factors and "the foresight and wisdom" of such a firm would accrue to the board.

It was noted that the Perkins & Will firm has designed more than $600 million in schools in various sections of the country, including in New York State, schools in White Plains, Newburgh and the Schenectady area, among them the beautiful new Linton High School.

To Meet Feb. 19
Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent of Kingston city schools, will present "an educational plan" at a meeting of the advisory group on Thursday Feb. 19 (the group voted to meet the third Thursday of each month).

That plan is expected to outline an educational program designed "to fit the community's educational goals, based on the children's requirements and future—a plan designed for any educational changes in the future."

The plan also will be designed not only for "ultimate" purposes, but to meet the requirements in facilities for pupils next year.

Seek 'Four Candidates'
It was noted at last night's meeting that the terms of two board members now serving will expire in May and they must be replaced in an election.

Fowler and Vines were asked to name at the February meeting of the advisory group a sub-committee which will submit a list of names of prospective candidates.

It is hoped that the list can be "narrowed down" to four candidates.

It was stressed that such a list would not preclude a person not included therefrom from becoming a candidate.

To be eligible for candidacy, the candidate must submit a petition to the Board of Education signed by 100 eligible voters. Petitions must be submitted 20 days prior to the election on May 5.

Dr. Soper proposed at the special meeting of the Board of Education, that seventh and eighth pupils now attending rural schools be enrolled in Kingston city schools during the 1959-1960 school year.

Dr. Soper reported that Dr. A. D. Dotter of the building and grounds division of the State Education Department, will be in Kingston next Thursday for a conference with school officials. (Continued on Page 7, Col. 2)

3 Trustees Chosen Again for Library

At the annual membership meeting of Kingston City Library, three trustees were unanimously re-elected and a new constitution was voted and approved.

Committee reports were approved, including the 1958 financial report.

The three trustees re-elected Wednesday at the meeting in the library were J. Richard Shults, Mrs. John Sterley and Attorney Frederick H. Stang.

Other trustees for the coming year are Gifford Beal, Attorney Hugh Elwyn, Mrs. Jack Clair, Andrew Daly, Robert Murray and Mrs. Robert MacKinnon.

Lou Smith, medical records librarian. Standing, Robert L. Harkins, assistant administrator; Paul J. Wendrow, pharmacist, and (far right) Miss Rosemary Pellegrino, R.N., director of nursing. Placard held by Schnitzer denotes 44,925 patient-days of care recorded by the hospital last year, an 11 per cent increase over 1957. (Photo Workshop photo).

ESCAPING GRAVITY—The weightlessness of outer space is experienced by reporter Doug Walker, left, and photographer Bob Doty at Wright Air Development Center in Dayton, Ohio. Zero gravity was reproduced in the 25 by 8-foot cabin of a two-engine Convair for 10 to 15 seconds by executing a complicated maneuver. The plane was flying at 10,000 feet. The pair floated, coasted and flipped—all with a feeling of perfect security.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—It's not such a routine week in television as you might think from a casual glance at the listings for the next seven days.

Recommends Shows

If anyone cares what I think, here are some programs I'd recommend watching:

On Sunday afternoon: An NBC news team will analyze the outlook for the 86th Congress from Washington.

The Last Word returns to CBS — by popular demand of a host of viewers who enjoy wit, words and wisdom.

A new program, The World of Ideas, makes its debut, also on CBS. Guests on the program will discuss the principles by which we live.

An hour satire on Hollywood, "Malice in Wonderland," will be seen on Omnibus over NBC.

Mikoyan on 'Press'

NBC's Meet the Press extends its time to a full hour Sunday for an interview with visiting Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan.

The Twentieth Century on CBS offers the first of a two-part study of juvenile delinquency Sunday.

On Monday evening ABC presents "Youth Anonymous," an examination of Detroit's successful curbing of juvenile delinquency.

Bold Journey travels along in its customary spot on ABC, with this one a journey to Costa Rica.

Lowell Thomas offers viewers another High Adventure on CBS — this time on a U. S. Navy IGY expedition to a remote Pacific atoll for a look at the world's first use of rocket astronomy in the study of a solar eclipse.

On Wednesday, Edward R. Murrow is the moderator of a special CBS News study of "The Lost Class of '59" in Norfolk, Va., where the integration problem is keeping 10,000 students from furthering their education. The program examines the effects of the closing of six public schools on the community.

Art Carney on '90'

Art Carney stars in what sounds like an interesting Playhouse 90 offering Thursday over CBS — a new Rod Serling original TV drama entitled "The Velvet Alley."

Phil Silvers is both himself and Sgt. Bilko in a special hour show on CBS Friday night. His guests include Diana Dors and Sidney Chaplin.

Endearing Terms

WINCHESTER, Va., (AP)—Some folks thought it a bit unusual when a doctor kept calling a patient in an emergency ward here "darling." He was only trying to keep a husky apple picker, Wellington Darling, still enough to sew up a four-inch gash in his head.

Gypsum Producer

More than a million tons of gypsum are mined annually in New York state, which is the second most important producer of gypsum in the United States.

The Dorcas will meet at the church. There will be work to do and members are urged to attend.

Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. the Praise and Prayer meeting will be held at the church.

local postmaster, Mrs. Elsa D. Hart, Thursday evening, they attended a dinner meeting at Judie's of the Ulster County Chapter. Mrs. Baxter was guest speaker.

Mr. and Mrs. James Krom and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jensen of New Paltz called on the Krom sisters Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Krom have just returned from a vacation in Florida. Other callers at the Krom's on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Synder and Mrs. Zenobia Atkins of Poughkeepsie. Mr. and Mrs. Snyder and Mrs. Atkins also called on the Neff family.

Miss Linda Sarr entertained several of her classmates at supper and the movies in honor of her birthday last Friday evening.

James B. Rymph of Staatsburg was a caller at Hillcrest Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jansen were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Lester of Wallkill.

Mrs. Rosalie White and Mrs. Emma Wright have returned home after visiting their sister, Mrs. Pearl Hodge and niece and family, the Frank Neffs of Chatham, N. J.

Congress Urges Quick Selection Of Cuban Envoy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional pressures mounted today for the prompt naming of a new U.S. ambassador to Cuba, where the revolutionary government says it plans more executions.

Demands for a new ambassador to replace Earl E. T. Smith who resigned last Saturday came with strong congressional criticism of the executions as developments piled up on several fronts:

1. The State Department assured Congress it is standing pat on its policy of not interfering in the affairs of its neighbors. It denied charges the United States had given military help to ousted Cuban dictator Fulgencio Batista.

2. The Navy ordered a task group that includes 3,000 Marines diverted from an intended stop at Cuba "to avoid any misunderstanding."

3. Rebel leader Fidel Castro said he wants good relations with the United States, but cautioned against any U.S. intervention in Cuba. Castro vowed 200,000 gringos (U.S. citizens) will die if Marines are sent to Cuba.

4. Batista charged executions by Castro's rebels are "perverse attempts to justify their crimes." The call for prompt naming of a successor to Smith, who was in disfavor with the rebels, was spearheaded by Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) and John Sparkman (D-Ala) after Asst. Secretary of State Roy R. Rubottom talked with congressional leaders.

The most important thing we can do now," Morse said, "is to get an ambassador there. Steps are being taken quickly to accomplish that end. That will give us a direct line of contact with the Cuban government to make clear our point of view."

Sparkman agreed that the important thing is to speed up the appointment of a new ambassador. He added he feels any drastic action against the new government "would be premature at this time."

Marshall Is Satisfactory

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall, 78, who suffered a slight stroke, is in satisfactory condition in a hospital here, his doctors said Thursday night.

Marshall was stricken Thursday at his home in the resort town of Pinehurst, 60 miles away. He was brought here by ambulance to the new Womack General Hospital and given a private room. His wife took a room nearby.

Parking Area Is Completed for Clinton's Patrons

Completion of the Governor Clinton Hotel's new 50-car parking lot was announced today by Ronald G. Drown, manager.

The parking area more than triples the amount of space formerly available for parking. Located on the northwestern side of the main hotel building, the lot utilizes the space between that building and the Governor Clinton Apartments, 236 Clinton Avenue, and extends back to the annex. It does not encroach upon the extensive gardens to the rear of the hotel. Additional space was made available by elimination of a refuse handling area which was replaced by an incinerator.

The area offers free parking for hotel customers, including dining room customers as well as registered guests. The larger part of the new lot has been in use since late last year. The project was completed this month with the erection of the incinerator shelter and the installation of signs.

Vehicular access to the parking area is from Albany Avenue and from Clinton Avenue. When gardens are in season, customers may use the rear entrance to the hotel.

Realistic Escape

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor-director Marlon Brando wanted realism in his jailbreak movie scene. He got it.

Driving Risky, Area Free From Serious Mishaps

Heavy fog Thursday night made driving risky, but state police reported the area free from serious accidents.

There were a couple of minor accidents reported to Thruway police and speed from New Paltz south was reduced to 35 miles an hour last night. That limit was still in effect this morning.

Snow Is Possible

State police at the Kingston station reported snow up to six inches in places in the Mohawk Valley, snow extending east to Fultonville and Amsterdam with prospects of the storm extending to this area later. It was predicted two inches of snow might reach Kingston later today. The 35 mile speed on the Thruway was in effect yesterday from Albany to Herkimer and roads were icy.

The Associated Press reported the following state roundup of weather conditions: Three persons had been killed in accidents on slippery roads. The general forecast for Friday night and Saturday was: windy, colder and light snow.

Two to six inches of snow fell overnight in the northern, western and central sections of the state, and more was on tap.

Fog Halts Planes

The weather bureau said heavy snow might hit parts of the eastern section on top of rain and freezing rain—"all the elements of a major winter storm."

During the night, air traffic was halted at Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse and Albany because of thick fog.

Automobile, bus and truck drivers cut their speeds drastically.

The State Thruway Authority reduced speeds on the superhighway from 60 to 35 miles an hour between Herkimer and Utica and from Victor west to the Pennsylvania state line. Both sections of the Thruway were coated with snow and ice.

Mother of Four Killed

The Weather Bureau said light snow fell from Utica westward to Buffalo and north to Watertown. Rain and freezing rain was reported in the Southern Tier and in the Hudson Valley.

Temperatures overnight ranged from the 20s to low 30s Upstate and around 40 in New York City. Mrs. Richard Blow, 28, mother of four, and LeRoy Emerson, 79, both of Prattburgh, Steuben County, were killed late Thursday near Prattburgh when their automobile and a light truck collided on Route 53. State Police said the highway was coated with snow.

Mrs. Ruth Reid, 37, of Gowanda, Cattaraugus County, died Thursday night when her automobile skidded on an icy hill and was in collision with another car three miles from Gowanda.

Igoe Buys Veteran Old Stone School House for $3,800

The old stonehouse one-room school at Veteran was sold at public auction Thursday night to James Igoe of that community for $3,800. Nine persons submitted bids at various stages of the auction.

Miscellaneous equipment included desks, chairs, books, bookcase, globe and stand, flag standard, prints and an electric clock brought $45.60 at the auction block.

Igoe told The Freeman this morning that he had no immediate plans for the building. Igoe sells building materials at his establishment about 1,500 feet west of the schoolhouse location on Route 212.

Terms of the sale were 10 per cent as a binder and the remainder before Feb. 16. This was the second in the series of auctions on old schoolhouses in Saugerties Central School District. On January 7 the High Woods Reformed Church paid $1,345 for the one-room school at High Woods opposite their church property.

Morris Rosenblum of the Saugerties law firm of Rosenblum and Lamb conducted the sale for the centralized district.

The next sale is scheduled Thursday, Jan. 22 at 7:30 p. m. in the Fish Creek building. The Fish Creek schoolhouse is a two-room wooden structure.

Thomas Wright Wins Bausch and Lomb Medal

Thomas Wright, senior at Saugerties High School, is the 1959 winner of the Bausch and Lomb Honorary Science Award Medal. It has been announced by Dr. Grant D. Morse, superintendent of schools.

The annual award—a handsome bronze medal—is given at graduation to the senior student who achieves the highest scholarship standing in science subjects. It is presented in almost 7,000 schools. Since its introduction in 1933, there have been 125,000 winners; and a substantial percentage have been encouraged by the award to follow scientific careers.

Winners of the honorary science award are eligible to compete for science scholarships, sponsored by the Bausch and Lomb Optical Co., at the University of Rochester. The Rochester, New York firm provides for three or more scholarships annually, with stipends based on need and with a combined value of $9,600. The award winner must be selected at an early date because applications for scholarships must be filled out and returned to the University on or before March 1.

Both the Bausch and Lomb Science Award and science scholarship programs have been officially approved by the National Association of Secondary-School Principals, and educators throughout the country. These Awards are generally recognized as evidence of superior scientific aptitude. They are especially significant, says Dr. Morse, because of current recognition of the importance of greater emphasis on the teaching and study of scientific subjects.

Council of Churches Sets Mission Program

A special missions program sponsored by Saugerties Area Council of Churches will be held Sunday at 7:30 p. m. in Saugerties Methodist Church.

A film, "Profile Middle East" will be shown.

The Rev. George P. Werner, pastor of the Methodist Church will lead the program. Youth groups are invited.

Lutheran Church To Act on Budget, Elect Councilmen

Action on a proposed budget of approximately $25,000 and the election of four church council members of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Atonement, Market Street, Saugerties is scheduled at the annual congregational meeting Sunday at 8 p. m. in the church meeting rooms.

A covered dish supper will be served prior to the meeting by members of the Amicitia Circle of United Lutheran Church Women. Mrs. Hubert Legg of West Camp is chairman.

Glennford Genthner Jr., president of the congregation, will conduct the meeting.

Plans will be presented for the observance this year of the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Saugerties Church. William Jacobs and Miss Florence Gippert are co-chairmen of the anniversary committee.

Reports will be read by the church treasurer, Edward Stevenson of Woodstock; George Hano, financial secretary and secretaries of all church organizations.

The proposed budget will be presented to the congregation for approval. The nominating committee will present a slate of four for the councilmen posts and candidates names may be presented from the floor.

Methodists Hold Annual Meeting Hear of Progress

Saugerties Methodist Church took stock of its progress during the past year at its annual meeting this evening. District Superintendent, the Rev. W. Bernard Grossman of Kingston, conducted the meeting with Mrs. Gladys Cunningham serving as secretary.

The lay leader of the church, David Cunningham reported that the average morning attendance at divine worship now exceeds 200, and Milton Armstrong, chairman of the membership and evangelism commission reported that 59 members joined during 1958. The membership now exceeds 600.

Lay preacher Dixon McGrath of Woodstock reported that he had preached 113 sermons last year in 26 churches. Mrs. Nellie Brown spoke for the hospitals and homes committee, and Mrs. Audrey VanKleeck gave the adding committee report.

The missions commission report was given by Roy Helmsnoor who announced that the feature length film, "John Wesley," would be shown Sunday night, Feb. 1 at a family night program. David Jones, speaking for the Methodist Men's Club, announced that the meetings are now on the first Wednesday night of the month, and the next meeting would be a father and son banquet Feb. 3. The speaker will be Dr. J. Edward Carothers whose theme will be "Behind the Iron Curtain." Plans are also made to sponsor a benefit movie in March.

Mrs. Ruby Wilde, reported for the Woman's Society of Christian Service, saying that more than $1,000 had been raised during the year by the 48 members. The report for the commission on Christian social relations was given by James Delmege who said that the senior citizens group had been started during the year and turned over to an interdenominational committee.

Frances Maxwell speaking for the education commission, reported that the enrollment has increased from 261 at the beginning of the year to 293. A second session of Sunday school has been initiated which meets during the worship services. Stuart Crank, president of the Methodist Youth Fellowship, said his organization was participating in the sponsoring of a foreign exchange student for the next school year.

Erling Hanson, treasurer of the church, reported that a total of $24,673 had been received during the past year, $6,000 of which was for the expansion fund. The financial secretary report was given by Mrs. Louella Craft, and William Waldele reported for the Finance Commission.

The trustee board report was given by Lewis F. Fellows, who noted that the property has been kept in good repair, and the parish house has been ideally suited for Sunday school and organizational purposes. Milton Armstrong presented the report of the nominating committee.

The conference concluded with the pastor's report, who summarized the work and progress of the church, and turned the attention of the members toward future plans.

Following the quarterly conference, the official board was convened, and the sum of $100 was voted for "higher education."

Dog License Deadline For 2,634 Is Feb. 10

The complete list of dog owners totaling 2,634 in the Town of Saugerties has been turned over to the town clerk's office.

Town Enumerator Samuel Fluckiger listed the canine population in the areas he checked at 2,228. Deputy Sheriff Thomas Mayone showed 406 on his list.

A sharp increase of the number of dogs in the town over last year was indicated when the town clerk's records listed only 1,845 licenses sold in 1958.

The deadline for securing dog licenses without extra penalty is Tuesday, Feb. 10.

More than 500 have been sold at the Saugerties office to date. According to law no notices or bills need be sent out to dog owners. Omission of a name from the enumerator's list does not relieve the owner from the responsibility of obtaining a license.

Air Force Closing Albany Defense Center Jan. 31

The three Air Force officers and 20 enlisted men who have manned the Albany Air Defense Filter Center will be reassigned to other duties and the Albany center will be closed on Monday, Jan. 31, when the Ground Observation Corps will be inactivated. The post had been located at 268 Central Avenue since 1952. At one time the post was responsible for receiving and evaluating information from 360 observation posts throughout the northeast.

Kingston observation post atop the Governor Clinton Hotel has been inactivated and on a standby basis for some time. That post was once manned 24 hours a day under the direction of Mrs. Dewey Logan, who was in command.

Equipment at the Albany center will be moved to Stewart Air Force Base at Newburgh. Radar networks and other electronic equipment has made the GOC obsolete.

Can't Forget Jan. 15

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Adolph Stroter, 22, says she will not soon forget Jan. 15.

Her husband, 33, was placed in County Jail that day for violating parole from State Prison. Less than 3 hours later, her two-year-old son, Kurt, fell from the family car and was critically injured.

The ambulance rushing the critically injured child to a hospital was involved in a traffic crash. Mrs. Stroter and a friend, Mrs. Judith Ann Haymaker, 17, were injured. So were the ambulance driver and his attendant.

Three More Key Jobs Are Filled By Rockefeller

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—William Wilson of New York City, vice chairman of the State Power Authority, was appointed by Gov. Rockefeller today to a new, five-year term on the authority.

The post pays $10,000 a year. Two other key appointments were announced Thursday by the Republican administration.

Solomon E. Senior, 55, of Flushing, a career civil service employee, was designated chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Board.

Albert C. Petite, 34-year-old New York City attorney, was appointed a consultant to study ways of simplifying the state's tax laws.

Wilson, a Republican, has been authority vice chairman since his original appointment in 1954. His term expired last May 6, but he had been serving by recess appointment of former Democratic Gov. Harriman.

The appointments of Senior and Wilson are subject to Senate confirmation.

Senior succeeds Miss Angela Parisi in the compensation board chairmanship, which pays $18,500 a year plus $3,000 for expenses. Miss Parisi, a Harriman appointee, returns to the status of member, which pays $15,000. Her term expires Dec. 31, 1961.

Legislators Donate

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—A lost billfold prompted state representatives to dig into their pockets Thursday.

The billfold containing $45 was dropped by page boy John Dahl, 14, of Helena, apparently while operating the House elevator.

The ninth grader reported his loss. He later was called to the rostrum and given an envelope containing $45, donated by the legislators.

Tass Defends Castro

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—The Soviet news agency Tass today defended Cuban leader Fidel Castro against American criticism of his forces' speedy execution of those they judge as war criminals.

The dispatch called the criticism in the U.S. Congress of the executions "defamatory and provocative."

WHAT DOES MIKOYAN WANT?

While Soviet Deputy Anastas Mikoyan is out gallivanting around the United States, the guesswork goes on as to what the real purposes of his trip are:

Certainly he did not come here to give away anything. His brief comments to newsmen on the Berlin situation suggest the Kremlin will not back off from its position—that the West get out—unless it gets some kind of face-saver in return.

The idea bobs up again and again that Mikoyan's visit somehow is designed to enhance Premier Khrushchev's prestige on the occasion of the Jan. 27 Communist party congress in the Soviet Union.

This has a good deal of plausibility, inasmuch as Khrushchev is known to be still deeply engaged in the struggle for supremacy within the Kremlin. Anything Khrushchev can do to "look big," even by proxy, may be figured to stand him in well for the party tests.

Naturally, any such purpose would be most fully advanced if Mikoyan were able to come away from America with some kind of concrete gain—some concession from President Eisenhower or Secretary of State Dulles. Perhaps the biggest hope is for the opening of U.S.-Soviet negotiations on Berlin and wider German and European issues.

Dulles has not indicated publicly whether Mikoyan, in their hour and a half talk, probed in this direction. When Mikoyan sees the President we may get a clearer notion what he is actually up to here.

It is always possible, of course, that one secondary purpose is to sample the American mood and temper, to see just how firm it is on matters like Berlin, a continuing strong Western defense, broader trade relations with Russia and its satellites. Not many Russians of top rank have ventured to investigate the American climate. They have preferred to stay home and intoxicate themselves with their own distortions of the U.S.

Evidently the Russians have decided to try to make some incidental public relations hay out of Mikoyan's visit, though a man of his grim visage has a tough time being convincing as he hands candy to kids.

Still, this is obviously not just a goodwill tour. And we have yet to learn whether any solid international good can come of it.

ALL POINTS TO '60

New York's Governor Rockefeller said in his inaugural speech that the nation could not hope "to spur economic progress and prosperity in the world unless such a state as New York can itself help lead America toward new horizons of well-being and equal opportunity for all our citizens."

This strikes us as not particularly unusual in an inaugural address. The political soothsayers, however, see in Rockefeller's remarks a challenge to Vice President Nixon in 1960.

That may be. But with all the speculation that followed the Rockefeller triumph over his fellow millionaire, Averell Harriman, the political savants would have seen a challenge to Nixon had the new governor confined his remarks to the high cost of eggs.

WE'RE STILL STAGGERED

When you look at that new flag, it really hits home. Alaska, the 49th state, is no longer a proposed addition to the U.S.A. Its place in the union is a fact.

Even with all the mental preparation we've had, this thing will still take some getting used to. Texas isn't the biggest state any more. Surely the statute of limitations must have run out on a lot of Texas jokes.

California doesn't have the highest mountain in the country now, either. Mt. Whitney has to bow to Alaska's Mt. McKinley, some 6,000 feet higher. Alaska, clearly, is going to steal the superlatives in many a field. Know any place colder?

Perhaps the hardest adjustment is realiz-

"These Days"

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
THE POLICE STATE

When the 300 or so lawyers in Chicago got all excited and gave Anastas Mikoyan a stand-up cheer because he said the police state is ended in Russia, the Armenian butcher of Budapest must have had a silent belly-laugh all on his own, because he, as much as Khrushchev or Serov, represents the police state. His entire career has been one of getting rid of successful friends as well as dangerous enemies.

Of course, these Chicago lawyers are not expected to know much about Russia and its satellites and their objection to the term, police state, may have some local meaning with which we who do not live in Chicago may have no familiarity. Apparently, they accept Adlai Stevenson as an expert on Russia, he having taken a trip there, during which he made an impression on Khrushchev.

For these Chicago lawyers, and others, who would really like to know what they are applauding, I recommend a book. It is entitled "The Naked Communist" and was written by W. Cleon Skousen, who was in the FBI and who is now at the head of the police of Salt Lake City. The book is published by The Ensign Publishing Company, Salt Lake City, Utah. Apart from his FBI experience, Skousen taught at Brigham Young University.

This book is unusual in that it deals with the Marxist movement as a fact, a psychological, economic and historic fact that requires analysis and understanding. Its first problem is a moral one. It is not without significance that Stalin and Mikoyan both studied for the priesthood. In fact, all early Marxists were preoccupied with the problem of God and apparently Mikoyan assumed that in Chicago they understood that the philosophy of Marxism was atheistic and that one of the most serious difficulties the Marxist faced was to maintain a system of morals without a power outside of man that made for righteousness.

Skousen, more correctly than most American writers, begins his study where he should, namely with the Marxist struggle against God. He says:

"Homo-Marxian was found to behave exactly like the graduate creature from the jungle which he believes himself to be. He regards all others with fearful suspicion and responds to each problem as though his very existence were at stake. Although he demands the right to rule humanity, he disdainfully rejects the most basic lessons learned during thousands of years of human experience."

The book contains an excellent study of the founders of Bolshevism, Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels. Skousen quotes Bakunin's opinion of Marx which is very interesting indeed:

"Marx loved his own person much more than he loved his friends and apostles, and no friendship could hold water against the slightest wound to his vanity. . . . Marx will never forgive a slight to his person. You must worship him, make an idol of him, if he is to love you in return; you must at least fear him if he is to tolerate you. . . . one may say that in the circle of Marx's intimates there is very little brotherly frankness, but a great deal of machination and diplomacy. There is a sort of tacit struggle, and a compromise between the self-loves of the various persons concerned, and where vanity is at work there is no longer place for brotherly feeling. Every one is on his guard, is afraid of being sacrificed, of being annihilated."

I recommend this book as rewarding to those who really wish to know what they are talking about. Certainly no one who read this book could jump up and applaud a mere statement that the police state has been ended in Soviet Russia; he would know that Communism could not survive in any country except as a police state. It could not survive for the very reason that Mikoyan gave, namely, that it is necessary to have high moral standards and high moral standards are impossible without a conscience which is not a psychiatric mechanism but an instrument of man's relationship to his traditional concept of his God and the automatic responses that arise therefrom.

Perhaps Stalin had to commit so many murders to prove that he had no conscience. Mikoyan, the Armenian theological student who became a bank robber before he developed into a Communist trader, might some day try to relate conscience to his own conduct, particularly in Hungary.

Sun Lamp Can Be Healthful
If Precautions Are Taken

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

A 16-year-old reader has recently inquired about the use of sun lamps. She asks whether this is advisable in order to get a sun tan and whether or not it might help pimples.

As regards the last question, a sun lamp will help the acne, since this is usually better in the summer months.

However, caution must be observed. For someone who has adolescent pimples, it would be wise to consult the physician who cares for the skin first.

In general, the question of the use of sun lamps is important since millions of us live in climates which provide little active sunshine for many months of the year. However, the name "sun lamp" is not quite satisfactory because it really refers to those ultraviolet lamps which emit rays not exactly like those of the sun.

The effect of ultraviolet lamp-produced rays on the normal skin is, however, somewhat like that of the sun. If the skin is exposed too long to these rays it will redden and burn. If small, gradually increasing exposures are taken, the skin will usually tan and the ultraviolet rays will cause the skin to make vitamin D.

Precautions must be used with an ultraviolet lamp. The rays are powerful and can damage the eyes seriously, unless these important organs are carefully protected. Uncomfortable and even dangerous burns of the skin have developed from too long exposure.

Also, although ultraviolet light helps some skin diseases, it is harmful for others. So it should not be used by someone suffering from a skin disease unless it is specifically advised.

Sunlight on the skin results in the manufacture of vitamin D. This vitamin is necessary to prevent soft bones—rickets—in children. During the dark days, therefore, children especially need extra rations of vitamin D, which is now so often provided in cod liver oil and other fish oils.

Some who are fortunate enough to take winter vacations in climates where they can get a good dose of sunshine right when they need it most. But this is not possible for most of us.

Not all ultraviolet lamps on the market are considered to be equally satisfactory. The selection should be made with care.

The use of an ultraviolet lamp does not do everything that the sun does, nor is it as much fun as a winter vacation at the beach, but it doesn't cost as much either. Hence the development of satisfactory lamps has benefited many people.

"Does This Open to Another Brick Wall?"

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — President Arturo Frondizi of the Argentine will get no new loans when he comes to Washington Jan. 20. He already has 'em. Over 346 million dollars' worth of stabilization loans, industrial development credits and surplus food disposal programs in the biggest package deal of its kind ever made. All intended to pull Argentina out of the ditch it was left in by Dictator Peron.

So this is strictly a good-will visit. It is not only Mr. Frondizi's first visit to the United States. It is the first time any Argentine president has been to the U. S. This will provide an opportunity for mutual inspection.

In addition to the usual VIP treatment in Washington, President Frondizi will be entertained by such American big shots as A. Thomas Taylor of International Packers in Chicago, Henry Ford II and General Motors President John F. Gordon in Detroit, Bankers Howard Shepherd of First National and John J. McCloy of Chase in New York.

THERE IS CONSIDERABLE American interest in President Frondizi. The problems he faces in his six-year term of office, which began last May 1, are super-tremendous.

There were grave doubts about him at first. He campaigned with Peronista support. This move apparently was necessary to get him elected. There were some suspicions that he would make deals with the Communists or go left.

Last July 9, when President Frondizi had been in office 68 days and there were fears that he would not last, he turned a corner.

He assured U. S. Export-Import Bank Director Vance Brand that his government would settle with the meat packers and power companies whose properties had been nationalized. He also announced that he would embark on a belt-tightening and austerity program.

This was all that was needed to get the technical help, the planning and the financial backing that would keep his government and his country from going down the drain.

It did not end his troubles. In November he had to put down a threatened revolt by his vice president, Alejandro Gomez. He had demanded Frondizi's resignation and an end to his austerity program. He may have other revolts ahead.

THE ARGENTINE PEOPLE are up against ruinous inflation. Food, gasoline, power and other cost of living essentials have risen as much as 300 per cent.

President Frondizi has asked his people to eat no meat two days a week. Argentines love good living. They probably won't abide by the restriction for long. But the only alternative is that the Argentine must export more meat and earn more foreign exchange if she is to survive. It will take her two years to raise more beef. The problem is to keep her going till the beef is raised.

A similar situation applies to her oil problem. The Argentine has been importing 350 million dollars' worth of foreign petroleum products a year. This has dried up her available foreign exchange and helped keep her broke.

Geologists are sure there is plenty of oil underground in Argentina. President Frondizi has let contracts with private companies to develop these resources.

BUT IT WILL TAKE two years to move in equipment, drill wells, lay pipelines, build refineries and produce enough products to run the country. Hopes that it will be self-sufficient in oil in three years are doubted.

Argentine railroads, nationalized and purchased by Peron from the British for 500 million dollars in one of the worst buys ever made, are considered unbelievably inefficient.

Argentina has 20 million people. Nine per cent of them are on government payrolls.

There is no one in the Argentine under 40 years of age, in his adult life, has ever known anything but the Peron system of state controls. The people have to be completely indoctrinated to economic reality and a valid system of labor pay based on production.

All this makes a severe test for any president, any government, any people. And the real tests will come in two and three years when payments start falling due on the new loans which have been made to keep the country going.

Q—What governs the four noons now observed in this country?

Q—Are there more single men in the U. S. than single women?
A—The Census Bureau reports that there are about 14,300,000 American males 14 or over who have never been married compared to 11,800,000 unmarried females.

Q—What is the weight of the fabulous Hope Diamond?
A—Forty-four and one-half carats.

U.S. Criticism by Mikoyan Contrasted With Red Curbs

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — If anything were needed to expose the humbug and hypocrisy of the Moscow government, it has been fully demonstrated in the paradox of Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan's tour of this country. While he openly criticizes the government of the United States and its policies, no American, whether an official or an unofficial visitor, may do likewise inside the so-called "Republics" of the Soviet Union.

Already "Tass," the official news agency of the Soviet government, is telling its readers and listeners that the people of the United States do not agree with the American government's policies and that Mikoyan is certainly winning converts to his cause.

Not Possible in Russia
Imagine some American official going to Russia and touring that country, making outspoken criticisms of the men in the Kremlin and trying to drive a wedge between the people and their government. This can be only a wild fancy. For nothing like it would be tolerated by the dictatorship which rules the Soviet Union.

The Soviet Union has had some distinguished American visitors, including Sen. Hubert Humphrey, one of the leaders of the opposition party in Congress and a high-ranking member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. But though he spent eight hours in conference with Premier Khrushchev at the Kremlin, the Senator said or later wrote in defense of American policies or in criticism of Soviet policies was suppressed, by order of the government, in all the newspapers of the Soviet Union.

Hampers Mutual Trust
How can there be a mutual trust or the beginnings of a "peaceful" co-existence when the rules that apply inside the Soviet Union are so hostile to the concept of free interchange between peoples? President Eisenhower told newsmen this week that he is in favor of more and more visits by prominent persons from the Soviet Union. But of what avail are these to be if access to the Soviet people is denied by the dictatorship in Moscow?

The Columbia Broadcasting System has, for example, been ordered to close its Moscow bureau, and accreditation has been withdrawn for its correspondent by the Soviet government. This was done to express Soviet disapproval of the televising over the CBS network in this country of a show about Stalin of the type found in historical novels. Similarly, a National Broadcasting Co. representative in Moscow was denied use of broadcast facilities because of some phrasing in one of his broadcasts which the Soviet government didn't like. The Soviets moreover, spend millions of dollars each year "jamming" American radio broadcasts to Russia and countries in Eastern Europe.

Curbs on Correspondents

Even more hypocritical is the Soviet government's attitude toward foreign newspapers and periodicals. It examines the policies of the publications and denies the admission of permanent correspondents representing any publication whose content the Soviets dislike. Yet the Congress of the United States admits to its press galleries persons from the Soviet Union in the guise of newsmen who are agents or employees of their own government in every sense of the word.

There is, in fact, no such thing today as reciprocity as between the Soviet government and our own government. It is the United States that gives constantly, while the Moscow government repeatedly says "no." Yet Mr. Mikoyan tells American audiences it is time for America to stop saying "no" to the various proposals relating to the future of Germany and other world problems which have been under incessant discussion between Moscow and Washington these last few years.

Freedom vs. Suppression

The reception given Mr. Mikoyan is being described in the Moscow press and radio as an indication that the American people do not agree with their own government. Such distortions are to be expected in a government-controlled press. When, however, it may be asked of Mr. Mikoyan, will the Soviet Union permit any American to stomp Russia and tell them their dictatorship is bad and can be overthrown by force whenever the people, by concerted action, decide to do so?

If Mr. Mikoyan says it can't be done, either he may be referred, incongruously though it be, to the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the so-called "Watkins case." This says it is constitutional for anybody—even a member of the communist party of the Soviet Union—to come to America and preach the gospel of revolution. When will the supreme tribunal of the Soviets grant Americans a reciprocal right? (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Honor is a strictly personal and human matter. As confidants of trusting individuals, we of the press are not areas of newspaper with designs of ink upon it. We remain individual men and women. We get paid for this and the risk, after all, is microscopic. We are, in fact, so hard up for a martyr that we harden Zenger even though he did not get hung. In recent times, Ed Leech, an editor for Scripps-McRae, did bits in jail for contempt in Memphis and Birmingham. But those were lean and hungry days and we used to mock his anguish with intimations that whenever he found himself really good and hungry he insulted some judge.

And so when Miss Marie Torre, of the New York Herald Tribune, went off to a cheery, comfortable jail in Jersey to do 10 days for refusing to name an informant in a item of movie gossip, the newspaper coverage, the editorial comment and the court record all were based on a mistake. Freedom of the press was not in jeopardy. This lady had given a vow not to reveal the identity of someone who had told her something. Under the law she had to break that vow or go to jail for contempt.

After elaborate appeals, amenities and obsequies, the U. S. Marshall's Trumbull took her away to her martyrdom in the warm private room with bath. Lucille Miller, of Vermont, a sick, fat, old patriot, seized on a mere suspicion of desertion, was later proved false, was taken from her husband and children and thrown into the horrible New York Women's House of Detention and wrote a classical description of her companions and her awful experience. The press ignored her although she was not under sentence for any offense and freedom of the press really was the issue.

The federal court in the person of Sylvester Ryan, a Bronx County politician happily insured against want forever, was very kind to Miss Torre. One more round of courtesies and he might have kissed her good-bye. Poor Ryan may have thought he deserved some tears for himself up there doing his duty as brave Judge Lynch of Galway did when he hanged his own by for Murther.

Ryan's proposition that Miss Torre is a Jeanne d'Arc was editorial and silly, not judicial and respectable. Her punishment is nominal, as she probably knew it must be, she will collect a substantial profit from the experience and, finally, as a person of honor, she had no alternative. Does the plain, lucrative, almost painless observance of a moral undertaking deserve all this outcry? If so, how low have we fallen?

You may say the Herald Tribune gave the promise, but, granting that, it did, does a commercial corporation enjoy the confessional privilege?

The term "The Press" has lost its old narrow meaning. A radio station openly proclaims its "editorial policy" on current issues. That may seem impudent, but, for that matter, you too are entitled to your "editorial policy" even though you do not own even a mimeograph or a megaphone.

But if you promise another person that you will never disclose him as the source of some information can you call yourself a martyr to freedom of the press in just keeping your own word?

I am neither naive nor cynical. But the lore of my own calling is richer in droll stories of drunken escapades and hoaxes than in examples of honorable devotion to an obligation that has never been reduced to a compact anywhere.

Radio is a frightful barbarian whose revolting personal attacks on Lindbergh, Joe McCarthy, Pat McCarran and other upright men, expressed by notorious blackguards, has never been repented.

Radio certainly is of "The Press," but it has no moral trust from the people.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

No doubt the coming celebration will not only bring out literary works about this section but also some art items. Many readers have heard of the Hudson River School of artists. They were a group of painters who lived and worked along the Hudson River in the early 19th century. One of the earliest and best known was Thomas Cole. He was born in England, a son of a wall-paper maker and came to this country when only 19. He studied at the Philadelphia Academy of Fine Arts and then moved to New York and sketched and painted along the Hudson River and Catskill Mountains. The Book of Knowledge says, his work attracted attention of such famous artists as Trumbull and Durand. Cole's work was exhibited at the Royal Academy in England. His "The Voyage of Life" and "The Course of Empire" are his outstanding pictures. No doubt, some of the Hudson River artists work will be shown during our 1959 celebration.

If art did not exist in years before the camera we would not have the slightest idea what people were nor what they looked like in years back. Historians owe much to the artists and just sketches who put down on canvas, paper, wood, or stone what they saw. In the 1700's another well known artist was John Singleton Copley, whose parents came from Ireland. His father was a tobacconist in Boston when John was born in 1737. His mother was widowed early and later married Peter Pelham, a painter and engraver. John watched his step-father closely and began to draw. Copley worked at engraving for a while and then began to become interested in portrait painting. His step-father had given him valuable training which helped him no end.

Copley, it is said, was a handsome, clever lad and had delicate manners, and an intellectual, conversationalist. Of course a portrait painter has to do more than paint. He must make it pleasant for the sitter so in no time the aristocrats of New York society found it was a pleasure to come to his studio and have their portrait painted. He was a fine and detailed artist and gave his portraits dignity and personal distinction. It is said, he did Lady Wentworth, then a Boston belle of 19 which was received well and brought other distinguished sitters. When he was 32 he married a Miss Clark, daughter of a wealthy merchant, the very man to whom was consigned the famous cargo of tea flung into Boston Harbor a few days later. Copley later went to Rome and later to London, to study with West and remained until his death. His son became Lord Chancellor of England. He no doubt also knew our Vanderlyn for they both were in Rome and in London.

Charles Willson Peale, a Philadelphia painter, began as an artistic craftsman. He was an expert worker in wood, leather and metal. He took lessons from Swedish painter, Hesselius. Peale then went to Boston and studied with Copley and also went to London to study with Benjamin West. Peale then came back to this country and painted a life-sized portrait of George Washington in the striking blue and scarlet uniform of a Virginia colonel. It would make a long and illustrious list of artists who studied with Sir Benjamin West (1738-1820). He was one of the most successful American painters who settled in England. In 1764 he followed Sir Joshua Reynolds as president of the Royal Academy. West's self portrait is at our Metropolitan Museum of Art.

IVAN FAILS TO PASS

Ivan looked as sad as Lenin in his mausoleum. A friend asked, "What's eating you?" "I failed to pass the Party exam. I'm ruined!" "What did they ask that you couldn't answer?" Ivan replied, "They asked me the difference between Capitalism and Communism. I didn't know. With the iron curtain preventing my visiting foreign lands, how could I know?"

His friend said, "You're a lucky mansk. Another guyovitch answered the same question correctly. He's still in jail!" No wonder Khrushchev wants everybody out of West Berlin. They know the answers. So do the poor slobovitches in East Berlin, which is supposed to be the show window of the Red Heaven.

For years now, the East Germans have been escaping westward at the rate of 1,000 a week, more or less. "They vote with their feet."

But who escapes eastward from the "capitalist tyranny" of West Germany? Only a few screwballs. The recent election in West Berlin to the local parliament was a sorry advertisement of the much touted blessings of Communism. The Reds got only 2% of the vote and didn't elect a single man.

The people inside the iron curtain want to get out, and the folks outside the iron curtain want to stay out. That says it in words that bounce along the sidewalk, as Al Smith used to say.

Neighbor, it's baloney that force and terror can raise living standards faster than freedom.

In a note released by the State Department, the United States called on the Soviet Union to join in trying to figure out a new approach to surprise attack negotiations which would avoid the stalemate that wrecked the Geneva meeting.

Breaks in Water Lines Keep Local Employees Busy

Water department employees have been active within the past week repairing water-line breaks in scattered areas of the city, and it has been indicated that more could happen because of frost conditions in the ground.

A break on Washington Avenue, near Lucas, was being repaired today, and others were on Walnut Street and the Boulevard. A condition on Delaware Avenue, near Cortis Street, which might be a break, is still undetermined. Edmund T. Cloonan, department superintendent, said.

About 24 inches of frost has been noted in the ground, Cloonan said. It is generally as hard as concrete and could cause damage in a thaw when it breaks or heaves.

A condition of seeping water on Hunter Street recently, he said, was traced to a break on a service line.

Severe cold weather without sufficient snow on the ground has permitted the frost to sink deeper in the ground than during winters of heavy falls of snow.

Kidnaped Baby Home

NEW YORK (AP) — Lisa Rose Chionchio, kidnaped from a Brooklyn hospital 12 hours after she was born on Jan. 1, is home with her happy parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chionchio called at St. Peter's Hospital Thursday and took Lisa Rose, now 14 days old, home for keeps.

Earlier the Chionchios were among the 100 people who heard the grand jury hearing testimony in the case of Mrs. Jeanne Lavaroni, 43, charged with taking the baby from its hospital crib.

Mrs. Lavaroni was arrested last Sunday night in her Brooklyn apartment, where she had been found in good health. The child was returned to the hospital for observation.

The St. Paul Winter Carnival tournament will be held on February 13, 14 and 15 this year. It is always one of the best tournaments and produces lots of fine players. S. J. Widman, who is this year's tournament chairman, held the North hand in last year's tournament and opened one club.

When his partner responded one diamond Sev decided to start the slam ball rolling with the bid of two spades. His partner's three-club response to the two-spade confirmed his intention to bid a slam so he checked for aces with a four no-trump bid. When South could not show an ace, Sev bid six diamonds, and North bid six spades. Sev did not sit clubs as many players do.

It was well that he put the

State Lying in Payment

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Don't fret because you're a little late in paying your bills. New York State is delinquent too.

As of now, the State Education Department said, the state owes about nine million dollars in scholarship-fund payments.

Because the money wasn't paid to colleges when due, some students with scholarships have had to pay their own bills. However, they'll get the money back, an education department spokesman said Thursday.

BABSON on BUSINESS

By Roger W. Babson

BABSON PARK, Mass., Jan. 16—So many readers of my column have written to me questions about South Africa, that I have selected 16 of the most important and am answering them here.

POPULATION. The population of Africa is estimated at 135 million. Of this total, about five million are Mulattos, about three million English and other Europeans, and about two million Dutch, known as Afrikaansers. This leaves about 125 million Blacks, which speak nearly two hundred different languages. This language barrier prevents the Communists from now getting any hold on Africa.

COST OF LIVING. This is high for all groups. Black labor is very cheap, but it is very inefficient. Most articles, textiles, etc., are imported.

LARGE RETAIL STORES. These are very attractive and well stocked, equal to the best in any American city of similar size. There are probably too many small retailers. The merchants are mostly Jewish, Malay, and English.

BUILDING. The Blacks live largely in thatched-roofed mud huts, while most of the white-collar people live in very attractive four-story apartments built of brick tile covered with cement.

HOTELS, CHURCHES, AND CLUBS. These are the same as in any American city of similar size, but much more segregated as to race and inheritance.

FARM LAND. This is very high priced, at $500 an acre and upward, and can be equalled at $100 an acre in the United States. This high price is due to the fact that agricultural land lies only in the small valleys between the highlands and mountains.

WEATHER. South Africa has its hottest months in January and February; and its coldest in July and August, with practically no freezes, except in the highlands. South Africa is fast becoming a winter resort for Europeans.

RAINFALL. Long periods of drought are followed by terrible floods. Someday the floods will be controlled, but not yet. The weather is fine for citrus, with no freezes and much sunshine. Drought is overcome by irrigation.

BANKS. There are several local banks scattered throughout Africa, but South Africa has only four. Each of these banks has hundreds of branches. I like Barclays Bank the best, but all are equally good. Banks pay 4½% interest on deposits; bank stocks yield about 9% to stockholders. I believe these bank stocks offer the greatest opportunity for growth of any in the world.

LARGE CITIES. There are only a few large cities in Africa; but all are having a marvelous growth. Forty-five years ago Johannesburg had only a thousand people, all living in tents. Today the population of this city is over 600,000, and there are dozens of skyscrapers. My favorite cities are Cape Town, Durban, and Salisbury.

FISHERIES. These are very prosperous, and mostly on the Southwest Coast. Frozen fish and so-called "lobster tails" (crayfish) come into the United States free of duty; but a 45% import duty must be paid on canned fish.

LOCAL INVESTMENTS. When the South African people sell out their mining stocks, they use the profit to build apartment houses for rent. They believe that acreage, business blocks, and apartment houses are the best hedges against inflation.

HIGHWAYS. These are wide and well tarred. Most white-collar workers have automobiles, which are mainly American-made. No oil of commercial grade is now found in Africa. Soft coal exists in great quantities. This is being distilled, and the distillate is being used for gasoline for autos and trucks; the residue is used for tarring the highways.

MINERALS. My reason for visiting Africa was to investigate the diamond, gold, chrome, and copper mines. I was interested only in the richest and longest-lived mines, of which there are not too many. I especially like those whose stocks can be bought by the purchase of American Depositary Receipts and that are listed on the New York Stock Exchange. Too many African mines are short-lived and very speculative.

WATER POWER. Africa leads all continents in undeveloped water power. Three of these possibilities are now being developed. I am especially enthused about the one at the Kariba Gorge on the Zambezi River. This will be three times the size of our Hoover Dam, and has the world's largest man-made lake to supply water in the dry seasons. It will supply power to the copper mines.

WILD BEASTS. Africa has the greatest number of wild beasts now remaining on this earth. There is a huge collection in the Kruger Reservation, 300 miles by 50 miles in area. I was unable to visit this reservation, where they all run wild and have equal opportunity to follow their natural pattern for survival; but Mrs. Babson had the courage to go by herself, with a guide. These wild animals offer a suggestion for world peace, namely, by giving equal opportunities to all creatures. If all men and beasts have sufficient opportunities to eat and to develop, there will be no Communists.

Two Back in Jail

UTICA, N. Y. (AP)—A man and a woman were back in jail today for refusing to answer questions about prostitution in Utica.

As he did last month, Justice John Marsh of State Supreme Court sentenced Salvatore Chipoletti and Miss Bernadette Sadler to 30-day terms Thursday for criminal contempt. He also fined them $250 each.

The pair twice refused to testify before a special grand jury investigating crime and vice in Oneida County. They pleaded the Fifth Amendment a month ago and again after serving their first 30-day jail sentence.

Omits Nixon

Stassen Is High On Rockefeller For White House

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A man who often sought the Republican nomination for president says he believes Gov. Rockefeller would make a worthy White House occupant.

Harold Stassen, a former governor of Minnesota, included the state's new governor among four possibilities for the GOP nomination next year. He omitted Vice President Nixon.

Stassen also told a news conference Thursday night he believed Rockefeller would do "a splendid job for New York State."

In addition to Rockefeller, Stassen listed as presidential possibilities Interior Secretary Fred A. Seaton, Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson and United Nations Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

Stassen, no longer in the front ranks on the political scene, attempted in 1956 to have Nixon dropped as the GOP candidate for vice president on the ground that Nixon was a liability to President Eisenhower.

In a speech Thursday night at a meeting of the World Affairs Council, Stassen called for a new, bi-partisan foreign policy that would be free of political controversy.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Hope for lower taxes burns bright today—even though all signs point to higher taxes instead.

Ike Reviews Hope

President Eisenhower has revived the hope and tied it with his fight to keep the dollar from deteriorating further in purchasing power.

He says that if prices can be held fairly stable, the government will have a better chance of balancing its budget. That is, if the government doesn't have to spend more for the goods and services it needs, its income from tax collections will have a chance to equal its outgo. On that happy day reforms in the tax structure would be possible.

Taxes and inflation are linked in more ways than this.

To most of us inflation simply means that our income doesn't buy as much as it once did. To the monetary expert inflation means that the supply of money and credit is expanded beyond the demand for goods.

The Treasury has just sold 2½ billion dollars worth of short term notes, mostly to the banks. Since these are regarded as the nearest approach to greenbacks themselves, the supply of money available to the economy is increased by that amount.

The President would like to ward off a new spurt of inflation. But the Treasury has to keep coming to the money market to raise new funds to meet the deficit that government spending is running up.

Money managers themselves have this constantly increasing supply of funds to do battle with in their attempts to hold down inflationary pressures.

May Be Excise Change
If the fight can be won, what tax relief is planned?

The President says he has the Treasury Department working on this now.

The reforms under consideration at this time seem to apply mostly to business. Their effects could be felt all the way down to the consumer.

One thing proposed is a change in the excise taxes. These are a form of sales tax now levied on a few things. One proposal is to cut the rates on such taxes but to make up the lost revenue by adding a number of other goods to the tax list.

Business still has hopes that the 52 per cent levy on corporate profits will be lowered to 50 per cent.

Depreciation allowances also are close to the hearts of businessmen.

Texas contains 249 times the land area of Rhode Island.

Here's a tip about managing money

BE INDIVIDUAL

Dare to be individual in your interior home design! This is the advice of Dorothy Liebes, member of the Advisory Council of the Design Center for Interiors. There are no "absolute rules" to interior decorating that cannot be broken for a mood of romance and magic in creating a new home atmosphere.

"The average homemaker in this country has wonderful potentialities in deciding what should go into her home," Miss Liebes said. "Whether she is working out a theme herself, or having a professional decorator assist her, she need only apply her own artistic appreciation to arrive at the desired result."

"There are thousands of people in this country living in one or two rooms. While I might not conceive of a one-room apartment with French Chateau furnishings, I would certainly not stop a person from following such inspiration if a Chateau is her 'dream home.'"

For the family with more rooms, the large apartment dweller or the home owner, Miss Liebes suggests a two to three year "master plan." An authority on textiles and related products, Miss Liebes suggests literally starting from the bottom—since floor covering is a major investment of many homemakers.

She points out that visitors to the Design Center for Interiors, America's first exhibition hall for the decorative arts, often come in with samples of fabrics and go first to rug and carpet displays. In fact, she suggests all would-be decorators start a file—even if it is in a single manila envelope—for swatches of fabrics they choose for color, texture and design.

"Why are floors so important?" Miss Liebes inquired. "Because if you look over the average contemporary American home today, you will see the largest surface space on the floors. The greater window space, the more open areas from foyer to living, to dining, to kitchen areas means less wall space. And, floor coverings have become very important as a keynote of interior design."

"The monotone carpeting is being complemented by patterned rugs. The single tone floor covering is more apt to show spots and soil even with ordinary family usage. And, the multitone tweeds are giving way to the newest look in patterned carpeting for high style interior design."

Known as a leading colorist, Miss Liebes says you have to experience color rather than discuss it. Here she goes back to her manila envelope file and says "keep putting in the swatches you like until you have a combination that pleases you. Select a maximum of three basic colors, but as many nuances of each color as you like. Try them against your complexion—and that of your husband. Then look for a variety of textures. Keep that rug in mind because it will blend best if all the room's textiles coordinates with the floor covering."

"The American woman knows a great deal about color, texture and pattern coordination," Miss Liebes remarked. "She has learned this from the fashions she wears and need only stop and think a while to make the carry over to home decoration."

SHARING A TAXI

Dear Mrs. Post: Recently I attended a very large meeting in one of our big cities. After the meeting everyone left for home. Taxis were at a premium and after waiting for a very long time a man who was also at this meeting and his wife (both strangers to me) offered to share their taxi with me as we were all bound for the railroad station. When we arrived at the station the man paid the driver the amount that was on the meter. Should I have paid the driver too or should I have offered half of the fare to the man, or should I have just said thank you to him and left, which is what I did? This was an entirely new experience to me and I was at a loss as to the correct procedure to follow.

Answer: You should have offered half of the sum of the fare plus the tip to the man sharing the taxi with you. If he refused to accept your money you would not insist, but thank him for the ride and his kindness.

A Toast to the Bride and Groom

Dear Mrs. Post: I'm going to be called upon to give the toast at a wedding reception. The bride is a young relative of mine whom I love dearly. I'd like very much to do this nicely and would appreciate your telling me exactly what my remarks should be on this occasion.

Answer: You are not supposed to make a speech. Merely get up and after attracting everyone's attention you propose that they drink to the happiness of your beloved Alice and her beloved John. Or any similar sentiment.

Reception Following A House Wedding

Dear Mrs. Post: We have received an invitation to the marriage of an acquaintance. There was no separate reception invitation enclosed although I understand there is to be one. Since it is to be a house wedding, do we take it for granted that we are to stay on after the ceremony?

Answer: The invitation you have received includes the reception.

Every letter should be written with care and the proper stationery. To improve your letters both in appearance and in wording, you will find Mrs. Post's booklet No. 502, "Letter Writing," helpful. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 25 cents in coin to Dept. EP, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

To Appear With Boston University Choir In Concert at Fair Street Reformed Church

Church Notes

Two Boston University scholars from Kingston will appear with the Boston University Choral Art Society at a concert in the sanctuary of the Fair Street Reformed Church on Friday, Jan. 30.

They are: Cameron Rylance, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Rylance, assistant director and accompanist for the choir; and Miss Margaret S. Danford, daughter of Mrs. Walter Danford, soloist.

Mr. Rylance is an accomplished organist and has appeared locally at numerous musicals. During the summer vacation period he served as organist at the Fair Street Church.

Miss Danford made her debut locally at the age of two when she appeared with the Old Dutch Church choir. She also has been soloist with the Kingston High School A Cappella choir and with the sanctuary choir of First Baptist Church.

The Boston University Choral Art Society, under the direction of Allen C. Lannom, has enjoyed a growing musical prestige throughout the United States. Each year, this dynamic group of 40 voices accompanied by a Chamber orchestra presents to an evergrowing audience unique choral concerts of sincere artistry.

Many demands are made upon this choral ensemble each year in and around Greater Boston. One of the recent performances was with Arthur Fiedler and the Boston Pops Orchestra before an enthusiastic audience of 2,000 persons.

On recent tour, the Choral Art Society, under the direction of Mr. Lannom went to Chicago, stopping at many of the major cities en route.

The Choral Art Society is chosen from students throughout Boston University, with the larger portion coming from the College of Music in which both Mr. Rylance and Miss Danford are enrolled. The initial group numbers close to 100 voices, then through competitive audition, is reduced to approximately 60. For the tour, a more mobile unit of 40 voices, the finest at the university, are chosen for this rather extended event.

130 Attend Open Meeting for Talk On Mental Health

One hundred and thirty persons from Kingston and Ulster County attended the open meeting of the Ulster County Council of Social Agencies at Kingston Hotel following luncheon Wednesday noon. Dr. Maurice Greenhill, director of the Mental Health Center of Ulster County, was the speaker.

After hearing committee reports, Miss Rose Marie Feeney, president, introduced Dr. Greenhill and his staff.

Gives Report

In his report of the mental health services, Dr. Greenhill reminded the audience that Ulster County, one of 25 counties in New York State to set up mental health services, was aided in their $32,000 annual budget by funds provided by the Community Mental Health Act of New York State, the state matches the county with one dollar per capita reimbursement. He said with this type of financial aid, if the county wished to make the investment, a very worthwhile program of hospital care for the mentally ill could be set up right here in the county. He believes setting up psychiatric units in the hospitals and with the right program, mental illness could be eradicated.

Dr. Greenhill said he set out in September 1958 to follow out the mandate of the Mental Health Services Act, that is to organize not just a clinic but also consultation and rehabilitation.

tion methods in the county mental health program. He spends two days each week at the center in Kingston.

The Ulster County Community Health Board or the director have not been successful as yet in procuring a psychologist or psychiatric social worker. A volunteer assistant serves at the clinic and a full time secretary is at the office daily.

To date 33 patients have been treated, having been referred through private physicians, schools, various agencies and individually. Fourteen persons were from Kingston and 19 from Ulster County. Thirty per cent of the case load were children.

Stresses Need

In stressing the need of education and cooperation in such a program, the speaker said that an in-service course for public health nurses in Ulster County had been instituted. A nurse educator from Baltimore is conducting these classes. The resident physician from the Kingston Hospital also observes the work of the Mental Health Center. Groups such as the county caseworkers and others will be given the opportunity to attend such special classes, the doctor promised.

Dr. Greenhill emphasizes the fact that any mental health program is dependent on good community organization and asked the Council and those present to aid in interpreting to the public the real service of the Ulster County Mental Health Center.

It was announced by Mrs. Vincent Connelly, program chairman of the council, that the next meeting will be held February 10, when the rheumatic fever program of the Heart Chapter of the Ulster County TB and Health Association will be discussed.

First ready-to-wear suits for men were made in Boston about 1880 by John Simmons, who founded Simmons College.

While Kingston is at Arlington for what promises to be a high scoring non-league contest, four DUSO League tilts, three in the Ulster County league and two in the Dutchess County Scholastic circuit are scheduled as high school cagers play their last tilts before the mid-term hiatus.

The schedule:

Non-League
KINGSTON at ARLINGTON—This contest could develop into a track meet between two clubs that can run. Arlington is leading the DCSL and has won six games in eight starts. The boys to watch are guard Jerry Anderson, a 6-1 star who can rebound and shoot and 5-5 Mickey Savino, a bundle of dynamite. Savino can shoot either outside or inside and is a big reason why Arlington is away to a successful season. Kingston won a sloppy tilt from Monticello on Tuesday and has been beaten only by Newburgh in seven starts. This one will be close as Arlington is especially effective at home. The locals should control the backboards and should therefore edge the home side.

DUSO League
PORT JERVIS at POUGHKEEPSIE—The Pioneers have an added incentive in this one. It marks the last high school action for Joe Molinaro, their super three letter athlete. Joe is a mid-year graduate. The Porters have always had hard time winning in the Bridge City. PHS to take this one.

NEWBURGH at MONTICELLO—There doesn't appear to be a club which can beat Newburgh, except possibly Kingston at home. Newburgh is primarily a two-man operation with LeRoy Riley and Jack Connon the culprits. The Monties are rough and aggressive, but they don't figure to stop Riley or Connon off the backboards. NFA should romp, even though the contest is away from the Hilly City gym.

FALLSBURG at MIDDLETOWN—A battle between two winless fives. The Middies score better and should therefore break into the win column. In John Barber, they have the best small player in the circuit. The Comets hustle but they haven't much skill.

LIBERTY at ELLENVILLE—The Indians are on a warp path with a four game win streak. Ellenville rested Tuesday after upsetting Monticello last week. This could develop into a scoring battle between Ben Davis of the Ellies and Josh Gerow of Liberty. The Indians appear to be much better balanced and should continue their upward surge.

UCAL
ONTEORA at HIGHLAND—The home side has been progressively better each game. However, Ed Witko's cagers are the class of the circuit and should win without too much strain. This looks like another great season for the defending champions.

NEW PALTZ at RONDOUT—The Huguenots have lost seven straight since winning their first two. They have one outstanding player in Birch Hayes. Rondout is hot and cold but does show a good defensive record so far. Chuck Meehan's cagers should win a close one.

MARLBORO at WALKILL—A real rugged battle. Both teams have height and the edge goes to Walkill at home. The winner will still be in contention for the crown. The loser will have very little hope with two losses.

DCSL
BEACON at SAUGERTIES—The Southern Dutchess club has lost three hoop starts by the total of 11 points. Saugerties will have to finish the season with out ace Don Mornille. This will hurt the Sawyers as Beacon has height. The pick is Beacon in a bruising one.

Ted Atkinson Ponders Role As Track Mogul
NEW YORK (AP)—Ted Atkinson, with 21 years of riding and 3,795 winners behind him, is considering an offer to become a racing official if a back ailment forces him to give up the career he has plied for half of his 42 years.

The Canadian-born jockey, rated one of the best in his trade, had a date today with Dr. Alexander Kaye, chief physician for the Jockeys' Guild.
Upon the doctor's examination rests Atkinson's decision whether he'll return to the saddle or seriously consider an offer to become a racing official in New York. The offer was made to Atkinson in Florida recently by Marshall Cassidy, director of racing for the New York Racing Assn.
The back injury forced Atkinson out of action three times during the 1958 season, but each time he was able to come back after a rest.

OTBA Meeting
Members of the Old Timers Baseball Association dinner and ticket committee meet at Cuneo's at 7 p. m. this evening to fix a postponed date for the testimonial to Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick. All members are urged to attend.

CRONIN CHOSEN BY COMMITTEE—Joe Cronin seated right, shakes hand of retiring American League President Will Harridge in Chicago as Cronin was chosen by a screening committee to be recommended as Harridge's successor. Behind them are three committee members, from left: George Medinger, vice president of the Cleveland Indians; John Fetzer, board chairman of the Detroit Tigers; and Art Friedlund, New York Yankees secretary. ### Nats Narrow Knicks Margin

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Syracuse Nationals were breathing down the necks of the New York Knickerbockers today in their duel for second place in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Assn.
Coupling their 111-105 decision over Minneapolis with a 95-91 defeat of New York by Philadelphia in Syracuse Thursday night, the Nats reduced the Knicks' second-place margin to two games.

In racking up their fifth straight victory, the Nats built a 15-point early lead, but saw it drop to three with 42 seconds remaining. Then Larry Costello and Dolph Scayes rallied the home forces and they won going away.
Scayes and rookie Hal Greer each scored 21 points in pacing the Nats.
The Warriors held a 13-point lead in the third before the New Yorkers pulled even at 78 with a little more than 10 minutes to go. Then Paul Arizin, who topped all scorers with 30 points, and Woody Sauldsberry, who had 21, hit successive field goals and the Warriors never were headed.

The Kingston Colonials

***A Baseball Legend (1921-27)***

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

The titanic battles with Tannersville, Red Hook, Rhinebeck and Poughkeepsie highlighted the 1922 campaign—second for the original Colonials—and there were several brilliant pitching exploits for and against Manager Harry Schirick's tossers.

But on July 6, 1922, at Green Island (near Troy) the Colonials suffered a 16-1 shelling in a twilight game that was mercifully halted after seven innings.

It was an historic collapse and it was a long time before sharp-tongued Manager Schirick would let his charges forget that one. The late Freddie Stoudt was the victim, although nine errors, including two each by Matty Deegan, Carl Glaser and Jack Robbins hardly added up to gilt-edged support. It was the most atrocious defensive exhibition in the history of the team.

Stoudt, who left the box during a 6-run rally in the sixth inning, was relieved by Cy Connors, an infielder. Stoudt had allowed only seven runs and walked four and Connors somehow managed to get the last 6 out while yielding only 3 hits.

Green Island racked up 7 runs in the second inning six in the sixth. The Colonials, limited to 5 hits by a guy named Hickey, escaped a shutout in the first inning when Jack Robbins singled with one out and scored on Bobby Coyle's double.

Deegan Hits for Coyle
But the Colonials survived that agony and had many glorious moments. Matty Deegan hit for the cycle (single, double, triple, home run) on May 14, as the Colonials overpowered the All Pros of Troy, 17 to 9, with Bud Culloton surviving a 13-hit assault.

The Colonials averaged that 16-1 drubbing by routing the Green Island KCS, 12-2, the next time around on a beautiful 4-hitter by McAuliffe. Coyle and Deegan each slammed a single, double and home run.

Bud Culloton beat Oneonta, 3-2, in a 10-inning thriller on June 12. Coyle homered in the 5th inning and scored the winning run on a single, stolen base and a third baseman's error in the 10th. Culloton stopped the Philadelphia Colored Stars, 7-1, on 4 hits on June 14, then allowed only 5 hits and struck out 10 in 11-inning 2-2 tie with the All Nationals of New York. Limited to 2 hits over the first 8 innings, the Nationals rallied for two runs in the top of the ninth to go ahead, 2-1. The Colonials fought back in the bottom of the ninth when Deegan, leading off, got a life on the shortstop's error. Artie Rice singled and Cy Connors also singled after Schwab sacrificed.

Twelve Inning Victory

Kingston won a 12-inning scorching from Peekskill Knights of Columbus on June 26, with Culloton relieving McAuliffe, who allowed only 3 hits in 10 innings. The Colonials wrapped it up quickly with one out in the 12th when Frye, who relieved Cracker Holden, plunked Robins with a pitched ball and Robbie Coyle doubled him home.

Culloton twirled a superb 6-hitter and fanned 8, as the Colonials blanked the Rhinebeck Astors and White and Rube Forsythe, 6-0, on June 28. McAuliffe was equally impressive in a 1-0 triumph over the Schenectady Knights of Columbus three days later in a game decided in the first inning when Jack Robins tripled with one out and scored on Coyle's single.

Bill McAuliffe struck out 10 and blanked the All Nationals of New York, 5-0, on 2 hits on July 4, 1922. Matty Deegan belted a homer and two singles and Artie Rice had three singles.

Ross Wins 2-1

One of the famous duels with Tannersville resulted in a heart-breaking 2-1 defeat for Harry Harper in the ninth inning at Tannersville on August 11. Harper had yielded only 4 hits and was leading 1-0 when the roof caved in on him. Sid Ross was the winner on a tight 7-hitter with 10 strikeouts. Harper fanned 12.

Kingston broke the scoreless deadlock in the seventh inning. Bud Culloton, who played right field that day, led off with a single. Dutch Glaser sacrificed. Culloton held second while Porter threw out Harper. Gallt followed with a single to chase Culloton across.

Strenk tapped Harper for a single to open the bottom of the ninth. Harper fanned Tubby Raskin, who later joined Kingston but Jimmy Morgan, another later Colonial, rapped a single. Ross singled sharply to left scoring Strenk with the tying run, but Morgan was nailed going into third on a toss from Schwab to Glaser. Left fielder Scott followed with the fourth hit of the inning to break up the game. (To Be Continued)

Bucs' Daniels and McDaniel Rated Top Rookie Prospects

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Hunch players who dole out name parlays might keep an eye on the Pittsburgh Pirates' training camp this spring where rookies Jimmy McDaniel and Bennie Daniels will be trying to impress Manager Danny Mortagha.

McDaniel is an outfielder who, according to Pacific Coast League experts, is ready for major league ball. And there isn't an observer in the International League who doesn't believe Daniels is a cinch to make the Pirates' pitching staff in 1959.

McDaniel and Daniels are not the only freshmen on the Bucs' roster, of course. There will be 15 new faces in camp, but those two stand the best chance to make it, along with the perennial rookie, Rocky Nelson, who will be getting his eighth big league trial.

McDaniel led the Pacific Coast League with 37 home runs and tied for the lead with 100 runs batted in on a .293 batting average.

The 6-2, 196 pounder, who hails from Marshall, Mo., but now makes his home in Coachella, Calif., is exceptionally fast despite his size, is graceful in the field and can throw with the best of them. That's the report from the coast.

Daniels, 28, enjoyed a spectacular season with Columbus, where he won 14 games while losing six and turned in a 2.31 earned run percentage. A native of Tuscaloosa, Ala., he has improved his control, which hampered him in bid for a berth with the Pirates last spring. In 160 innings, he struck out 112 and walked only 56.

NBA Drops Six Month Title Rule

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Big money-making champions don't have to worry any more about the six months title defense rule. The National Basketball Assn. today just about gave the boot to the often disregarded regulation.

The NBA's executive committee said heavy taxation had made it virtually impossible for the major attractions like middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson and heavyweight king Floyd Patterson to hold strictly to the code. It made the point at a Thursday meeting in which it accepted assurances from both Robinson and Patterson that they intended to defend their crown this year.

Robinson said he would by May or June (probably against Carmen Basilio) and Patterson's manager, Gus D'Amato, said Floyd would defend against a yet unnamed opponent "within a reasonable time."

At the same time the committee warned bantamweight champion Alphonse Halimi to defend his crown by April 15 or face loss of the title. He hasn't had a title fight since Nov. 6, 1957.

Robinson's last title fight was last March 25, when he regained the crown from Basilio. Patterson isn't due for a title defense under the outmoded rule until Feb. 18. He stopped Texan Roy Harris in Los Angeles Aug. 18.

Cubs Have Signed All 1959 Players

Earlier Thursday, the Cubs announced the signing of outfielders Bobby Thomson, Jim Bolger, Chick King and Jim Marshall. In all, 30 Cubs are signed.

Ute String Hits Five In Skyline

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Jack Gardner, the sometimes excitable Utah basketball coach who swigs two quarts of milk a game to soothe his hurts, has a much more pleasant comedy today—a tidy winning streak and first place in the Skyline Conference.

The Utes' string went to five and their conference record to 3-0 Thursday night in a 76-50 whipping of New Mexico. With a combination of brawn and height on the court, Gardner probably has the quietest stomach since he bagged his last Skyline title three seasons ago.

Since the consolation finals of the ECAC Holiday Festival in New York last month, the Utes have been winging in championship form.

Dick Ruffell, a dandy sophomore flipped in 18 points as Utah hit at a 46.6 per cent pace against New Mexico. Carney Crisler and Jim Rhead, two others who rode the bench only three weeks ago, have helped the Utes in the conference race.

Denver, with George De Roos and Bob Grinstead each scoring 16, downed Montana 66-62 in another Skyline game, and Virginia won its first Atlantic Coast Conference game in seven tries, 86-67 over Duke as Paul Adkins scored 24 points and 6-7, 240-pound Herb Bush added 20.

George Washington had a 54.8 shooting percentage in walloping Virginia Military 79-63 in Southern Conference play behind 20 points from Billy Talasky and 19 from Bucky McDonald.

In the Ohio Valley Conference, Morehead of Kentucky defeated East Tennessee 83-77 and Eastern Kentucky routed Middle Tennessee, 93-66.

Villanova, with soph Jim Huggard scoring 26 points, bagged its 10th victory in 11 games, 101-75 over Brandeis, and Florida built up a 23-point halftime lead and coasted to an 85-70 decision over Miami of Florida.

Other major results included Stetson 65, Tampa 38, Mississippi Southern 75, Spring Hill 70, and Presbyterian 81, Erskine 61.

Bruins, Wings Drop to Cellar

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Bruins and the Detroit Red Wings, both of whom have been steadily sliding down the National Hockey League standings, were tied for the fourth and last playoff position today.

The deadlock came about Thursday night when the Bruins blanked the Wings 3-0 for their first victory in five games and their third in the last 14 outings. Detroit has only one triumph in their last 13 starts.

Each has 38 points, four less than the third place New York Rangers, and three more than the cellar-dwelling Toronto Maple Leafs.

Goalie Don Simmons turned back 28 Detroit shots at the nets in registering his third shutout of the campaign. He got offensive help from Johnny Bucyk, Don McKenney and Jim Morrison.

McKenney's goal moved him into undisputed possession of second place back of New York's Andy Bathgate in total goals. Bathgate has 24, McKenney 23 and Montreal's Dickie Moore 22.

Matthews 2-1 Pick in TV Bout

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Lightweight hopefuls Len Matthews of Philadelphia and Paulie Armstrong of Los Angeles, battling to get into the title contention picture, meet tonight at Hollywood Stadium in a nationally televised fight.

The 10-round bout goes on at 7 p. m., PST, over the National Broadcasting Co. network.

Matthews, 19, rates as a 2-1 favorite. He is undefeated in 16 fights and has stopped 12 opponents.

Armstrong, 21, has won 22 matches, lost four and boxed one draw.

The bout will be scored under California's 10-point per round system—10 points to the winner, 9 or less to the loser of a round.

Fishing Is Way of Life in Ireland

By AL McCLANE Fishing Editor

Atlantic salmon fishing gets under way this month in Ireland. Although the early winter period is apt to be soggy on the 32,000-square-mile Emerald Isle, rainfall is the element that triggers big salmon runs. Fishing here is a way of life. Many hook patterns, for instance, like the Limerick and O'Shaughnessy, are named after Irish villages and anglers—an immortalization that few lands earned.

When it comes to fishing "camps" Ireland can claim to have the most elaborate in the world. One of the top centers is Ballynahinch Castle in Connemara. The castle, which was the property of an Indian Maharaja for several years has been converted into a hotel for anglers.

Set among hills of unparalleled beauty, 41 miles north of Galway City, the Ballynahinch River and lakes produce excellent salmon and trout beginning in February. Thirty miles away stands Ashford Castle, which when it was built more than a century ago as a private residence cost more than five million dollars.

Exotic settings are modestly priced and along with a 40-cent license, provide a real budget vacation. Regardless of where you travel in Ireland, hotels either own or have access to rivers and lakes—more "free" water than any other European country.

Some of the best salmon streams are the Suir, Lee, Moy, Blackwater, Boyne, Slaney and Sligo. Beginning in late May, the trout rise greedily in the lakes. In June sea trout enter the rivers. Throughout Ireland, there's wonderful fishing for pike, perch and other panfish.

Siena's Weaver In Top Twenty

Siena's captain Jack Weaver continued as 20th leading scorer among the nation's major college cagers with a 21.7 point average, according to statistics released yesterday. Weaver bucketed 195 points in nine games.

The 5-8 Troy whiz is also tied for first place with 6-5 soph Bill Smith of St. Peter's in the Middle Eastern Conference scoring race. Weaver has averaged 23 points in three conference engagements, while Smith has accomplished the same feat in two loop tests.

Smith broke the conference free throw record in the 71-48 win over St. Francis last week with 17 conversions.

Weaver's 38-point total against St. Francis fell one short of the conference standard set by Hank Morano of St. Peter's last year.

Buchholz Defeat Sets Stage For Drama Way Down Under

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

ADELAIDE (AP) — Earl Buchholz, of St. Louis, acclaimed the world's outstanding junior, became the first major casualty of the Australian National Tennis Championship today. And then in a fit of depression said he may quit the game.

Later, after cooling off a bit, he amended the threat to say "I would like to knock off for six months and get back in the right frame of mind."

The unpredictable 18-year-old Missourian, listless and lacking in fire, fell before Neil Gibson, unranked Australian in a second-round match on the Memorial Drive courts. The score was 8-6, 6-4, 1-6, 6-1.

It was a miserable day for the lean crewcut American. He accidentally cracked his best two rackets. He served 24 double faults. He held his violent temper, but in doing so apparently lost his fight and determination.

At the intermission, trailing two sets to one, Buchholz was summoned from the dressing room to the stands and given a pep talk by Perry Jones, captain of the United States Davis Cup team.

Jones reminded Buchholz of his obligation to the U. S. Lawn Tennis Assn. which spent about $5,000 to send the boy to Australia and exhorted him "don't think of yourself. Think of the association, St. Louis and your family back home."

Buchholz told his captain that he had no heart for the game and perhaps he should give it up. "I can't play my best because I am always blowing my top," he said.

Gets Pep Talk
Jones counseled that a rest might do Buchholz good, that he must conquer his temper and cultivate a better attitude before he can reach greatness.

Buchholz plans to continue in junior tournament.

The defeat of Buchholz left three members of the U. S. Davis Cup team still in the fight. All scheduled to play Saturday for the right to enter the round of 16.

Faunce Resigns As Utah Coach

LOGAN, Utah (AP) —

Personable Ev Faunce, harassed by lack of material the past two seasons, resigned as football coach at Utah State University Thursday.

He said he was thinking of going into private business. A former star back with the University of Minnesota, Faunce apparently was frustrated by attempts to get the university to approve more travel money for recruiting programs. He had been head coach for four years. Faunce, 32, will stay on the payroll until March 31 under the terms of his contract. He had a 15-24-1 record at Utah State.

Archie Flings Challenge At British Stars

NEW YORK (AP) — Archie Moore, as adept at publicity as keeping his world lightweight title, flung a challenge at England's two top heavyweights today.

To back it up he offered $150,000 to Henry Cooper who earlier this week outpointed Brian London for the British heavyweight championship.

"I see where Cooper wants $140,000 to fight Floyd Patterson for the world title," ageless Archie declared at the Boxing Writers' Assn. annual dinner.

"I'll do better for him," asserted Archie. "I'll give him $150,000 to fight me."

"What's more I'm willing to fight not only Cooper, but London a week apart to establish myself as the rightful contender for the heavyweight title."

Moore, who received the Edward J. Neil award as the fighter of the year for 1958, didn't mention Sweden's Ingemar Johansson, but it probably was just an oversight.

Moore had a crack at the heavy crown back in 1956, but was knocked out by Patterson in five rounds.

"I didn't look good in that fight," acknowledged Archie. "I was willing to wait in line, but now—"

Hershey Repels All Star Squad

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) —

The Hershey Bears refused to be dazzled Thursday night by the brilliant array of players on the American Hockey League All-Star team and walked away with an easy 5-1 victory.

Larry Zittel, Bears' defense man, scored in the first period. Bob Solinger and Ed Stankiewicz added goals in the second period.

Mike Yanosik and Dunc Fisher scored in the final stanza.

Marcel Praille of Buffalo, who defended the All-Star net in the first half of the game, yielded two goals. Gerry McNeil of Rochester allowed three in his half of the game.

The All-Stars now stand at 2-2-1 in the annual attraction against rotating American Hockey League teams.

Cecil Hoepstra of Rochester saved the All-Stars from a shut-out when he scored in the final period. Hoepstra was an added starter after Gary Aldcorn of Cleveland had been scratched from the starting lineup.

The All-Stars almost had another goal.

The final moments were played near the Hershey goal. As the bell sounded, Bears goalie Bob Per-

Fish and Game Law Violators Are Listed

Fish and game law violations settled during October totaled 10 with recoveries amounting to $85 in Ulster County, it was reported today by the State Conservation Department.

Two Kingston men, Booth R. Pendell and James Longendyke, both of Hindsdale Street, received suspended sentences for hunting illegally.

Herbert Houtman Jr., of Blue Mountain, Saugerties, also received a suspended sentence for trespassing for the purpose of hunting.

Others paid fines ranging from $10 to $1250 as follows:

John Ford, Pine Hill for taking ducks during the closed season; Robert B. Valentino and Samuel Vona of Highland, Walter Kwas of Foodmore, Ward Kerbonson and Pasquale Valentino, also of Highland for hunting illegally; and Leonard Williams of Lloyd for hunting migratory birds after sunset.

result stepped aside and Eddie Mazur of Cleveland blasted a shot into the net.

The official scorer said he had received no order to allow the goal. No protests were filed.

Cooper Accepts $150,000 Offer

LONDON (AP) —

Jim Wicks, manager of British Heavyweight Champion Henry Cooper, said today he had cabled Archie Moore accepting an unusual guarantee of $150,000. The fight would be in London, probably in June.

At the Boxing Writers Assn. dinner in New York Thursday night Moore said he would give Cooper $150,000.

"If Moore guarantees us the 50,000 pounds then the fight is on," Wicks said. "It could then take place in London in June and with this money already in the bank Cooper would not need any purse."

Wicks said he received the offer from the world lightweight champion early this morning.

Wicks said the dollars would make up "forget for the time being, at least," negotiation for a fight with Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson, or possibly one with Ingemar Johansson of Sweden.

Boros, Maxwell Tie With 67s In Crosby Golf

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—

Julius Boros and Billy Maxwell, who both know well the way to golf's pay window, paced a packed field into today's second round of Bing Crosby's $50,000 pro-amateur tournament.

Boros, a former National Open champ, and ex-amateur king Maxwell both caught fire with a string of birdies on the second nine holes of Thursday's opening round to shoot five-under-par scores of 67.

That gave them a one-stroke advantage over U.S. Open Champion Tommy Bolt and fast-rising John McMullin. Nine others were deadlocked at 69. On that list came Art Wall, Dow Finsterwald, Howie Johnson, Bob Goalby, Arnold Palmer, Frank Stranahan, Bo Wininger, Doug Sanders and Paul O'Leary.

On Easier Courses
Except for Wall and Palmer, all the leaders played the Monterey Peninsula Country Club course, easier than the other two used in this tournament — Cypress Point and Pebble Beach.

Each of the 150 pro competing for the $40,000 top prize also is teamed with an amateur in a best-ball event with $2,000 awaiting the pro on the winning team.

Maxwell, of Odessa, Texas, and his partner, Dr. Robert Knutson of San Francisco, led that category with a best-ball score of 61.

Bolt with singer Don Cherry and Mike Souchak with Bob Goldwater of Phoenix were tied at 62. Boros, of Mid Pines, N.C., and his partner from Las Vegas, Moe Dahlitz, carded a best-ball 66.

The opening day's play also saw a hole-in-one. Pro Jim Ferree's No. 5 iron shot popped into the hole on the 160-yard fifth at Pebble Beach.

Harris Succeeds Cronin at Boston

BOSTON (AP) —

Bucky Harris has reached what he believes is the goal of every baseball man — a major league general manager's job.

Harris, 62, who was succeeded by Joe Cronin as Boston field boss in 1934, Thursday was named to follow Joe as head of the Red Sox.

After 13 years as a major league infielder and 29 as a manager, Bucky spent the last two seasons as a special assistant to Cronin.

Harris learned of his promotion in a phone call from Cronin in Chicago where Joe had just been approved for the American League presidency.

are scheduled in the opener at 7:30 p. m.

English Writer Gets Story The Hard Way From Archie

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Stillman's gym can be a lonely place at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The ring lamps are cold. The lunch stand is closed. No punching bag rattles. The noontime boxers are gone. The night shift hasn't arrived.

Lou Stillman, the proprietor, stood in the gloom Thursday near the idle turnstile. The doors swung wide. In walked three young girls in mink.

"What are them dames doing here?" asked Stillman. A half-dozen well-dressed men clomped up the wooden stairs. In 15 minutes the ringside seats were full. About 200 in all. Literary people, television and stage people, society people.

Archie Moore, bundled in a blue overcoat, burst through the door and ducked into a hall to the back room. "No women back there," shouted Stillman.

The light heavyweight champion of the world entered a cubby-hole dressing room where a lean, scholarly young man was sitting on a table in boxing togs.

"Hi," said Archie to George Plimpton, co-editor of the Paris Review, a literary quarterly.

Writing Series

Plimpton grinned a greeting. He is writing a series of articles for Sports Illustrated on how it feels to face a champion. George has pitched to Willie Mays, played golf with Sam Snead, fought a bull in Spain and played bridge with Jacoby. Now he wanted to see how it felt to fight Archie Moore.

Now they were in the ring. Ezra Bowen, a Sports Illustrated writer, was the referee and announcer.

Plimpton bravely came at Archie, pawing with a left jab and standing up straight. Moore missed by so much, jabbed and slammed a nosy punch to the middle of Plimpton's backbone.

At the end of the second, George's nose was red. At the end of the third and last round Plimpton's bloody nose had stained Archie's shirt.

Back in the dressing room, they shook hands. "He might be able to do it if he was 21," said Archie. (Plimpton is 31, a graduate of Harvard and Cambridge with a squash, tennis, baseball background and no more pugilistic ambitions.)

HOW TRUE
The sweetest words from mouth of man,
Reflecting love devout,
Are simple these: "Put on your hat,
Tonight we're eating out!"

Many a woman who goes on a diet finds that she is a poor loser.

W. C. Fields, the uninhibited comedian, decided that a tract of land near his home would make a convenient and inexpensive graveyard for himself and other members of his community.

He approached the town undertaker with the idea that the latter should purchase and improve the land.

Fields—You can manage the whole thing on $20,000.

Undertaker—Well, I can raise only about $15,000. Will you put up the remaining $5,000? After all, you thought of the whole idea, and you have plenty of money.

Fields—Ordinarily I would be only too happy to oblige you. Unfortunately I am now in the strange situation of having all my available funds tied up in ready cash.

Little Billy saw the Indians in the movies painting their faces and he asked his mother why they did it.

Mother—Indians always paint their faces when they're going on the warpath to do their scalping and killing.

Next evening while sister's boy-friend waited in the parlor with the family, Billy came tearing down the stairs.

Billy—Let's get out of here quick, folks. Sister's goin' on the warpath.

The little girl had just returned much impressed from Sunday school where she had received her first information on the voice of conscience. Little girl—If you hear some thin' right here it's your conscience whisperin' to you. (to slightly older sister)

Sister—Aw, phooey! at's only wind on your tummy.

At a London party an American, wishing to be friendly, remarked to a guest:

American—When I'm in London I feel that I belong. One of my relatives fell at Waterloo. Guest—How distressing. At which end of the platform? The American thought this a good joke and at his first opportunity told the story to his hostess, who became quite indignant.

Hostess—Ridiculous! What difference could it possibly make at which end of the station platform he fell?
